6 HOURS OF SHANGHAI

STORY

"China is the perfect destination for exotic foods! I remember having a go at century eggs and jellyfish soup... for breakfast!"
Jean-Philippe Pelaprat, ORECA Technology engineer

FACT

Throughout the years, the 6 Hours of Shanghai have become one of the WEC's key rounds. They have always been the second-to-last meeting of the season, thus standing as a crucial race in the fight for the title, often quite a stressful one. Electric atmosphere guaranteed... Though the calendar has changed slightly with the Super Season, it still remains the last race of the year. And, as Hugues de Chaunac often says, it's important for the last one to be successful!
